About Inori

History

Our history began in 1992, when Eric Amsalem made his way to Japan to find his own jewelry business, but it wasn't until 3 years after that his dream began to come to life – the dream to create elegant, stunning jewelry everyone could wear. That is when Eric established his first business enterprise. In 2001 Eric and his brother Kobi created a new brand “Inori” which means “prayer” in Japanese. The Inori name provides a spiritual thematic base to all of its stylish designs.

Vision & Mission

Inori is an international brand dedicated to the art of fashion and ever changing trends. As one of the world's first manufacturer of stainless steel jewelry, Inori is devoted to maintaining the highest standards of excellence, while promising our clientele the creation of unique items at the best possible price. Inori is designed for the young at heart and those who have a passion for having a unique look. Inori Brand takes an active role in providing solutions, professional service, marketing and display support. Inori customers are partners and therefore Inori is committed to a long term business relationship. Inori is a perfect gift for the customer and his/her loved ones.

Values

The foundation stone of Inori business is integrity. All interactions with customers, suppliers, business partners and work colleagues are conducted with decency, integrity and mutual respect. Inori invests in the development of employees and provides a professional, challenging and rewarding work environment. Striving to maintain state of art, world-wide recycling standards, Inori recycles most of unused materials.

Quality Standards

Inori jewelry production is consistently updated to combine innovation, advanced technology and overall operation efficiency. Expertly crafted by the team of talented designers using the latest techniques, producing work that is always at very high standards of quality, Inori Jewelry is made using 316L stainless steel also known as surgical steel. Stainless steel jewelry has quickly become one of the most exciting phenomena in jewelry because of its highly reflective and durable characteristics.

For steel jewelry Inori uses PVD fusion (physical vapor deposition) – a wear resistant thin film coating which gives the jewelry its beautiful color. Each color is applied using a different technique. This innovative, high tech, quality application has been used by several high-end watch making companies due to its incomparable results. Inori uses not only the finest materials available on the market, but also the most highly sought after techniques to create a vast collection of individual master pieces.

Inori Brand

The foundation stone of Inori business is integrity. All interactions with customers, suppliers, business partners and work colleagues are conducted with decency, integrity and mutual respect. Inori invests in the development of employees and provides a professional, challenging and rewarding work environment. Striving to maintain state of art, world-wide recycling standards, Inori recycles most of unused materials.

Tips from inori on how to keep your display set looking at its best:

- Do not clutter the cubes and bases with too many items. Two to three items per square keeps the display looking both simple and inviting.
- To ensure a fresh and clean look, polish all acrylic and steel displays prior to set up and with frequent handling. Heat intensity from lighting can cause the paper backgrounds in the cubes and bases to discolor. We recommend checking them once a month. The ring holders tend to look dull if they are not polished once in a while. With simple care and attention, they will continue to look like new.
